To Publish Labor Paper.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 20.—As a result of a referendum vote taken today by members of the State Federation of Labor, it has been decided that the State Federation will publish an official weekly paper. It is to be left to a committee whether the federation will take over an unofficial publication that has been serving the interests of the federation, or start a new paper. The publication will be supported by the federation and it will be edited by Ollie S. Wilson, secretary of the State Federation of Labor.

MAYOR PLANS TO SECURE WHITE WAY

HAS TAKEN MATTER UP WITH THE PROPERTY OWNERS, WHO ARE DISPOSED TO INSTALL EQUIPMENT.

Mayor Mullen stated yesterday morning that he had taken up the matter of a white way with the property owners along Main street and found them willing to install the proper equipment in front of their property if the city can make arrangements to keep the lamps lighted, and give Ardmore something that has been wanted for a long time—a white way,—from the Santa Fe west on Main street. The mayor stated that he was going to see what the Light and Power company would donate toward the enterprise and hoped to be able to induce Manager Foster to donate six months' lighting free for this enterprise. The mayor has secured figures on iron standards such as are used for this purpose and the cost would be very nominal, divided as it would be among so many property owners. He suggests that now that Ardmore is rebuilding, it is a good time to make as many attractive improvements as possible, and nothing is more attractive than a well lighted street.

The mayor said yesterday that he hoped to make a report on this question at the next regular meeting of the city commissioners Tuesday night and he seems to think that he will be able to make a most favorable one.

Secret of Laughter.

"The secret of laughter is in the return to nature. Civilization and culture are late additions and we are giving to a great extent in artificial conditions. Psychology makes plain the fact that our present mental equipment has been slowly and painfully acquired and a certain strain in maintaining that high altitude is inevitable. This tension is relieved by nonsense and by the portrayal in humorous anecdotes and on the stage of evasions of convention and infractions of the prevailing code of morals and manners.

Teachers Meet at Durant.

Perfumes Prevent Nausea.

A New York physician reports that he has been very successful in preventing the nausea so apt to follow an anesthetic by the application to the nostrils of the patient of a pleasant perfume, preferably oil of bitter orange peel, as the ether or chloroform is discontinued. He elevates the patient's head a little and turns it to one side, fastening a little adhesive plaster to the tip of the nose and saturating this with cologne. Or if the patient has a mustache the perfume may be placed on that. He says the result is not always efficacious in preventing nausea after the anesthetic, but in many cases it is.

For Negro Hospital at Tulsa.

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 20.—Negroes of Tulsa are financing a hospital for the exclusive use of their race. Although not barred from the regular hospitals, facilities for treating negro cases are limited and for this reason wealthy members of the race started a movement for an adequate and up-to-date hospital for their own use.

Mexico's Capital.

Standing toward the southern extremity of the great plateau of Anahuac, reposing in a beautiful valley full of natural resources and rich with historic lore, is the City of Mexico. Of singular and varied interest is this capital of the republic whose name it bears, for its geographical situation and historical associations are such as assign it a leading place among the great centers of Spanish American civilization.

Sulphuric Acid Factory at Tulsa.

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 20.—The Oklahoma Chemical company, composed chiefly of Oklahoma City men, has purchased a site near Tulsa and will erect a plant for the manufacture of sulphuric acid, silica and caustic soda. This will be the first factory of the kind in Oklahoma.

McCURTAIN CO. FREE FAIR AT IDABEL

WAS GREATER BEGINNING THAN DALLAS FAIR HAD — PEOPLE UNITED FOR ONE COMMON PURPOSE.

What the Dallas News is to the Dallas fair, the McCurtain Gazette published at Idabel is to the McCurtain county fair. McCurtain county gave the first real fair in its history this fall and it was a greater fair than the first one given at Dallas years ago, and from which the Texas state fair has grown. The people of the entire county took an active interest in the exhibits. School children from all over the county were there, and the school exhibit was one of the most interesting in the exposition building. Live stock and everything that can be grown on the farm were on exhibit. Needlework and home-canned products were there in great beauty and variety. The Masons and the Woodmen, the city and county governments, and the merchants and schools, were represented in the parade on the opening day. The Gazette devoted more than a full page of space to a write-up of this fair, and this is but another evidence of the interest which the people there have manifested in their country.

The Gazette has the following to say of the visit of Congressman Carter of Ardmore and of Col. Sidney Suggs of The Ardmoreite:

Distinguished Guest.

"Hon. Chas. D. Carter, congressman from this district, was a distinguished visitor here Wednesday in attendance upon our fair, and billed to speak, but owing to previous arrangements he did not address the people but he expressed himself as being agreeably surprised at this, our first effort at a fair, and the wonderful improvements in Idabel.

"Mr. Carter is quite a favorite among our people and is one of the best congressmen from the great improvements hitherto made in the state of Oklahoma. His vast knowledge of Indian affairs makes him at this time, one of the most important men to the people in the whole state of Oklahoma. He will receive more votes in McCurtain county than any man in the entire congressional district. Mr. Carter doesn't assume the role of being the "wisest man in Oklahoma," but is open at all times to suggestions. He is the best posted man in all the district on Indian affairs, and his whole effort in congress has been to settle up the Indian affairs and make them on an equality with the white man. But some over-zealous grafters have been so anxious for the Indian affairs to be settled, regardless of law, just so they could get their "bony fingers" upon a few ignorant Indians they have wanted to blame Carter for the Indian payment falling to pass.

Col. Sidney Suggs.

"The address of Col. Sidney Suggs, of Ardmore, at the opening of the county fair, on good roads, was well received by our people. Col. Suggs is one of the most enthusiastic 'good road' advocates in the state and is gaining a national reputation as a 'good roads' man. Col. Suggs complimented highly our first fair—compared us to the Dallas fair, and said many good things about Idabel and her future. But he is really enthused on good roads, and he says:

"Good roads were first built by the more active and prosperous towns or townships. The larger centers of populations grew within their limits. This attracted the road traffic of adjacent communities. Such traffic did not help build or maintain the roads it partly destroyed. "This destruction resulted in a demand for county appropriations for road building. The moneys were first distributed among the towns or townships on some agreed plan, and were spent by them, or under the joint authority of county officials. Under these conditions most of such moneys went into politics, and not into roads, and there was no uniformity in construction or care.

"As a result of this work, there was a reaction in favor of county roads built and maintained by the county officials. Then, and only then, did the bulk of such appropriations get into roads, and there was a beginning of efficiency and uniformity.

"But history repeated itself between the counties. The more active and prosperous built and maintained good roads. These were again destroyed. There followed a state-wide demand for state appropriations toward road building. Again history repeated itself in the form of state aid to the counties and towns, to be spent by them, or under joint authority of the state officials. And again most of such moneys went into politics and not into good roads, and lack of efficiency and uniformity persisted.

"As a result of this waste, history once more repeated itself, and there was a demand for state highways built and maintained by the state under its highway commission. Efficiency and uniformity were the result, and the moneys went into roads.

"In those states which now have the best road systems, we find, as the result of the experience, a three-fold system, each under the exclusive jurisdiction of its properly constituted authorities. This has produced the largest mileage of good roads for the least expenditure. It has brought efficiency and uniformity out of chaos, and the money has gone into roads."
